Supply agreement, clause 6: invoicing and payment

The supplier shall deliver the goods to the site named in the order, packed for safe transport, and shall invoice the customer after delivery. The customer shall pay each invoice within 30 days of its receipt, without any deduction, to the account stated on the invoice. Late payments bear interest at the statutory rate. The supplier may suspend further deliveries while any invoice is overdue.

Clause 7 sets out the warranty terms.