Analytics Services Agreement

This agreement is made on 2 November 2026 between Fernhollow Home Insurance plc ("the Customer") and Quillfield Analytics Ltd ("the Supplier"), each a "party".

The Customer wishes to obtain monthly claims analytics and fraud-risk dashboards, and Quillfield Analytics Ltd has agreed to provide them on the terms below.

1. Definitions

In this agreement "Services" means the services described in Schedule 1; "Customer Data" means all data supplied by or on behalf of the Customer; "Business Day" means a day other than a Saturday, Sunday or public holiday in England; and "Contract Year" means each period of twelve months starting on the Start Date or an anniversary of it.

2. Services

Scope. The Supplier will provide the Services from the Start Date with reasonable skill and care and in accordance with good industry practice.

Deliverables. The monthly dashboards will be published on the secure portal no later than the fifth Business Day of each month, together with a short commentary on significant movements.

Subcontracting. The Supplier may not subcontract any part of the Services without the Customer's prior written consent. Where consent is given, the Supplier remains responsible for the acts and omissions of its subcontractors as if they were its own, and will ensure that each subcontractor is bound by obligations of confidentiality and data protection at least as strict as those in this agreement.

Changes. Either party may propose a change to the Services. No change takes effect until it is recorded in a change note signed by both parties, setting out any effect on the fees and the timetable.

3. Service levels

Availability. The portal operated by Quillfield Analytics Ltd will be available at least 99.5% of the time in each calendar month, excluding planned maintenance notified at least five Business Days in advance.

Support. Support requests may be raised by email or through the portal between 08:00 and 18:00 on Business Days. Priority 1 incidents are acknowledged within one hour.

Service credits. If availability falls below the target in any month, the Customer is entitled to a service credit calculated in accordance with Schedule 2. Service credits are the Customer's sole financial remedy for failure to meet the availability target.

4. Customer obligations

The Customer will supply the Customer Data in the agreed format by the last Business Day of each month, give the Supplier timely access to the people and information it reasonably needs, and tell the Supplier promptly of any change that may affect the Services.

5. Fees and payment

Fees. The Customer will pay the fees set out in Schedule 3. Fees are fixed for the first Contract Year and may afterwards be increased once a year by no more than the change in the consumer prices index over the previous twelve months.

Invoices. Quillfield Analytics Ltd will invoice monthly in arrears. The Customer will pay each undisputed invoice within thirty days of receipt and will notify any dispute within ten Business Days, giving reasons.

Late payment. Late payments carry interest at 4% per year above the base rate from the due date until payment is received.

6. Data protection

The Supplier processes personal data contained in the Customer Data only on the Customer’s documented instructions and only for the purpose of providing the Services. It will keep the data within the United Kingdom, apply appropriate technical and organisational security measures, ensure that its staff are bound by confidentiality, notify the Customer without undue delay and in any event within forty-eight hours of becoming aware of a personal data breach, and assist the Customer in responding to requests from data subjects. At the end of the agreement the Supplier will return or securely delete the Customer Data at the Customer’s choice and confirm this in writing.

7. Confidentiality

Each party will keep the other’s confidential information secret, use it only for the purposes of this agreement and disclose it only to those of its employees, advisers and auditors who need to know it. This obligation continues for five years after the end of the agreement.

8. Intellectual property

The Customer owns the Customer Data and the dashboards produced for it. Quillfield Analytics Ltd keeps ownership of its software, models and methods, and grants the Customer a non-exclusive licence to use them as part of the dashboards for the duration of this agreement.

9. Limitation of liability

Neither party limits its liability for death or personal injury caused by its negligence, for fraud or for any other liability that cannot be limited by law. Subject to that, each party’s total liability under this agreement in any Contract Year is limited to the fees paid or payable in that Contract Year, and neither party is liable for loss of profits, loss of business or any indirect or consequential loss.

10. Term and termination

This agreement starts on 1 December 2026 (“the Start Date”) and continues for three years. Either party may end it by written notice if the other commits a material breach that is not remedied within thirty days of being asked to do so, or if the other becomes insolvent. The Customer may also end it on six months’ written notice at any time after the first Contract Year.

On termination the Supplier will provide reasonable assistance to transfer the Services to the Customer or to a replacement supplier, charged at the rates in Schedule 3.

11. General

Notices. Notices must be in writing and sent to the registered office of the receiving party, with a copy by email to the contact named in Schedule 4.

Entire agreement. This agreement and its schedules form the entire agreement between the parties about its subject matter and replace all earlier discussions.

Assignment. Neither party may assign or transfer this agreement without the written consent of the other, which will not be unreasonably withheld.

Governing law. This agreement is governed by the law of England and Wales, and the courts of England have exclusive jurisdiction.
